DO YOU USE MACHINE LEARNING?

Do you use machine learning? It's just a matter of time when your competition will.

What that means?

- That means that they will be able to predict sales for each day individually.
- That means that they will be able to anticipate the demand, and based on this to have better plans for the storage facility.
- That means that they will be able to identify the risks in advance and they will be able to react in time.
- That means that the occurrences that you think are incidental, they will use as guidelines for making business decisions.
- That means they'll kick you out of business.
- That means you're going to regret.
